TOWARDS CARBON-NEGATIVE BIOENERGY: U.S. SENATOR INTRODUCES BIOCHAR LEGISLATION

The biochar concept has meanwhile received formal political support. In order to speed up biochar research the U.S., Colorado's Senator Ken Salazar recently introduced "The Salazar Harvesting Energy Act of 2007" , focused on carbon-negative bioenergy production. The bill (S. 1884) is awaiting discussion in the Senate Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee.
