

FRONTLINE: heat - PBS

This excellent documentary deals not about biochar but about fossil energy use, lobbying and a systematic undermining of renewable energy and efficiency. It is shocking and some actions appear silly and short-sighted. Excellent interviews strengthen the content which is partly hard to believe.